Will Improve Dump Grounds

Expansion of the city dump grounds and use of land fills would improve the trash disposal system of Canyon, Mayor Paul Lindsey declared this week.

Included in a proposed $440,000 city bond issue is $25,000 for improvement of the disposal system.

Lindsey said $8,000 of this amount is tagged for purchase of some 24 acres of land from J. D. Barker and the remainder is earmarked for purchase of additional equipment.

The present city dumpground is a 20-acre tract located a mile north and a mile west of the city. The proposed new tract lies adjacent and to the south of the present tract and extends into the valley of the creek which flows north of Canyon. The stream flows through fashionable Hunsley Hills.

Mayor Lindsey said the present dump ground is rocky and trash there cannot be buried.

'68 School Enrollment Figures Up

Enrollment of Canyon Public Schools has shown an increase of students for the past three years, according to Lawrence Brotherton who is in charge of school census.

Schools of the district have a current February enrollment of 2,553 which is up 113 students over February 1967 roll of 2,440. The district had an enrollment of 2,386 for February 1966.

According to first returns from the 1968 school census, an estimated 2,600 students will enroll in schools here next fall, according to Brotherton. The first census returns show a count of 2,407 current enrollees and 115 registered beginning

Public Schools Set Observance

Texas Public School Week will be observed by Canyon schools during the week of March 4-8, according to Lawrence Brotherton, coordinating chairman.

A number of events are planned at the schools in conjunction with the observance.

Among activities will be open houses at the schools with special invitations extended to parents and other persons interested in the educational program of the schools.

Rex Reeves Elementary School will hold open house activities all week, according to Oscar Hinger, principal. Letters of invitation will be mailed

In the new dumping area trash will be dumped into a trench and will be burned each afternoon. After the trash has been burned, a bulldozer will be used to push dirt over the refuse.

"This will eliminate breeding places for rats and flies," said Lindsey. "It will be 100 percent better than we have now."

Lindsey said dirt from the new dumping area will be used to cover trash already in the

Hire New Grid Coach

A former Hardin-Simmons University football hero has been hired as head football coach and athletic director for Canyon High School for the coming school term.

He is William Frank "Dunny" Goode, 38 years old, presently head coach and athletic director at Beeville. Goode was hired at a called meeting of the Canyon school board Friday.

He succeeds Jim Greenwood to parents requesting visits during certain days. "We have to set special visiting hours due to the large number of pupils which we have," said Hinger.

Open house at Gene Howe Elementary will be March 4 from 7:30 until 9 p.m. Luther Lawless, principal, said that a program on "artificial resuscitation" will be presented that night for the Gene Howe Parent-Teacher Association. The program will be sponsored by Southwestern Public Service.

In addition to the program, students and parents will be invited to tour the school's science

Houston Ducats Go On Sale

Advanced tickets purchased for the West Texas State University-Houston basketball game March 4 must be picked up by Wednesday, according to Athletic Director Frank Kimbrough.

Kimbrough said if the tickets were not picked up by Wednesday they would go on sale.

Tickets for the cage clash, slated to begin in the Fieldhouse at 8 p.m., were sold out last week.

Playoff March 9

Canyon High School girls basketball team will play Stephenville at 7:30 o'clock the evening of March 9 at Snyder in the regional playoff.

Winner of this match will advance to the state tournament to be held March 14, 15 and 16 in Austin.

Canyon defeated Tulia here last week to go into the regional tournament.

LaGrone In Board Race

Jerry LaGrone this week announced for re-election to the Canyon school board.

Two other men, Wesley Cox and Joe Gill, whose terms expire have not announced their intentions.

LaGrone has served two terms on the board and was board president in 1966. LaGrone has lived in Canyon for the past 12 years and has been extremely active in the affairs of the community.

He is past president of the Rotary Club, the Chamber of Commerce, the Panhandle Funeral Directors Association and the Texas Funeral Directors Association.

He has served as chairman of the Randall County Red Cross and has served on the board of the Randall County Cancer Society.

He represents the 18th Congressional District on the Texas Association of School Boards.

"My service with the Texas Association has given me a better understanding of the operation of Texas Schools," LaGrone declared.

The 38-year-old LaGrone is a former director of the Canyon Jaycees. In the early 1950s he served two years of active

Voter Count Completed

Final voter registration in Randall County for 1968 is 22,631.

Although 16,327 registered last year to vote, those over 60 years of age were not required to register.

A final tally in 1964, last presidential election year, was about 13,000.

Canyon Gets Plan Grant

The City of Canyon has been granted $10,521 for the preparation of a comprehensive plan.

Mayor Paul Lindsey was informed recently the money through the Department of Housing and Urban Development had been approved for the planning assistance that will include the preparation of base maps, analysis of land use, population and economic conditions, development plan and zoning and subdivision regulations.

The planning grant assistance, requested in October of

Commission Holds Off Cuff Session

Appointment of Democratic candidate Carroll Brown to the office of County judge drew a sharp protest this week from Republican candidate C.N. Cosby.

Cosby labeled the appointment of Brown as an unfair move by commissioners court perpetrated in order to give the Democrat an advantage in the general election next October.

Brown was appointed last Friday afternoon in a called session of commissioners court. The resignation of Judge P. H. Mulloy became effective Thursday of last week.

Cosby said that members of commissioners court appointed Brown after having stated "to individuals, and the press, they would not appoint anyone to the office of county judge who was a candidate for that office, and then, within a matter of a few days ignored their previous promises and named my opponent to the place, thereby giving him, as the incumbent, an unfair advantage."

Cosby said he hopes the action was a result of "lack of insight rather than political skulduggery or malicious intent."

Commissioner B. R. Jones of Amarillo made the motion to appoint Brown, an Amarillo attorney. The motion was seconded by Bill Butler, a Republican, also of Amarillo.

Commissioner Glenn Dowlen voted for the motion and commissioner Clarence Beckman, acting as presiding officer of the court, did not vote.

Following the official meeting, Beckman said he still was of the opinion that a candidate for the office of county judge should not have been appointed. Without notifying the press or other interested persons, commissioners court met for an off the cuff session with Brown at an Amarillo restaurant prior to the Friday afternoon meeting.

The Friday meeting was announced for 1:15 o'clock but commissioners did not gather at the appointed meeting place until 3 o'clock. In the meantime, reporters, the county clerk and other court officials cooled their heels in the commissioners court room unaware that a meeting was in progress some 15 miles away.

It was learned later that the commissioners told Brown he could continue with his private practice as long as he is available to perform as county judge.

Brown is 52 years old and has practiced in Amarillo since 1957. He moved to Amarillo

More Blood Is Needed

More blood for 11-year-old Russell Haberman, Canyon youth hospitalized at Wadley Hospital in Dallas with leukemia, is needed.

Winston Hall, chairman of a Kiwanis Club-sponsored drive to obtain blood for the youth, said the Coffee Memorial Blood Center would be open here each Tuesday and Friday from 10 a.m. until 3 p.m. for anyone wishing to contribute.

A drive is also underway at West Texas State University. The male or female greek organization donating the most blood will be awarded a community service plaque.

Haberman is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Sterling.

City Dad Flays Press, Attorney

BY WAYNE BOARD

City Commissioner Felix Pierce chastised City Attorney Elton Cox and members of the press Monday night because they had previously noted he held the council post while servicing the city with oil and fuel.

Pierce, who was awarded the fuel contract before his election to the commission last April, said he had bid in the past on city items against former mayors and council members.

I would like to know where the City was and the press when I had to bid against the Mayor and the Mayor Thompson when he was on and Jack Haley when he was on," Pierce asked.

Pierce, who ran on a platform last year that would limit the powers of former City Manager Gary Gwyn, said he had bid against former Commissioner A. C. Haley Jr., and former mayors, C. E. Thompson, Jr. and A. L. Walsh.

After city commissioners awarded the annual fuel contract to Cole and Moore Service Station of Canyon, Pierce said he could have saved the city $50 per month on the fuel costs.

City Manager Paul Davis said the question of holding the council post and fuel contract came to light when he was asked

Hungarian Says Germany Threat

BY ERNEST FISCHER

Ferenc Nagy, former Hungarian premier, believes that Germany, as well as Russia, is to be feared in eastern central Europe.

In a question period after three addresses here sponsored by the Student Activities Council of West Texas State University, Nagy answered that east central Europe now regards West Germany as a bulwark against communism, "but in the future of my nation I would like to see a solution that would protect us not only from Russia but from Germany also."

He went on to say that he believes that the nations of eastern Europe "are more ready for co-operation than western Europe ever will be."

HEART FUND VOLUNTEERS, from left, Mrs. Murphy White of the University Study Club, and Mrs. Herbert Kuhlman of Xi Kappa Zeta chapter of Beta Sigma Phi sorority, visit with Mrs. E. R. Reeves, president of the Randall County chapter of the American Heart Association, and Lee Roy Moreland, fund raising chairman. Citywide canvass will be conducted Sunday afternoon.

Heart Fund Campaign Is Scheduled Sunday

Volunteers for the Randall County chapter of the American Heart Association will conduct a canvass of the city Sunday afternoon, according to Lee Roy Moreland, fund raising chairman.

Local volunteers will meet at 1:30 p.m. in commissioner's courtroom for instructions and collection packets. They will canvass the city during the afternoon.

Members of the University

Study Club, Boy Scouts of Canyon, and representatives from Xi Kappa Zeta chapter of Beta Sigma Phi sorority are scheduled to assist with collections, according to Moreland. Phi Delta Theta fraternity is also planning a project in conjunction with the campaign.

The campaign here will also include a "coffee day" Tuesday. Local restaurants and coffee shops will donate proceeds from coffee to the campaign all day, according to Clark Jarnagin.

Memorial chairman is Levi Cole. Elton Cox is serving as bequest chairman. Rosa Russell will serve as treasurer for Heart Sunday, and Elton Cox is chairman for the annual campaign.

Mrs. E. R. Reeves is chapter president.

A few facts pointed out by the American Heart Association show that dramatic and constant gains have been made in the fight against heart and blood vessel diseases since the first research programs were sponsored in 1950. The cardiovascular death rate among persons below 65 has declined between 1950-65.

It is also encouraging to note that today's heart transplants could not have been performed without knowledge gained from Heart Associations sponsored research. The Heart Association also sponsors school health screening surveys, supports public education of heart disease and works in professional education.

Bands Set Concert

A concert featuring the Canyon High School band and the advanced band from Canyon Junior High School will be staged Sunday at 2:30 p.m. in the CHS auditorium.

Admission for the one-hour concert will be $1 for adults and 50 cents for students.

Gary Zook will direct the performance of the CHS band and Edra Hudson will direct the junior high band's appearance.

High school band students will present the march from "A Little Suite" by Malcolm Arnold.

$1 Million Grant To WT

Congressman Bob Price notified the Canyon News late Wednesday that a grant of $1,050,315.00 has been approved for construction of a new physical education facility at West Texas State University.

Price said that he was notified of the grant by the offices of Health-Education and Welfare department (HEW).

FERENC NAGY

by Troy Martin FROM THE CANYON RIM

If America ever becomes flotsam on the shifting sea of time--debris of man's noblest effort to govern himself--it will not be the fault of some major blunder in leadership. America will have failed because it will have lost that lump of leavening which makes human life worthwhile. It will have lost the buoyant bulwark of the soul called love.

America has her taproots in love. It was love of home that made a man forsake his mother country and battle for a few acres in the new world.

Families struck out into the wilderness with little more to cling to than each other. Children honored their parents and husbands and wives loved each other. They put together a common front and reared their children to love their country and cherish the ideals of freedom.

They loved the soil to which they gave their sweat. They would do battle for their community and loyalty was a quality valued as high or higher than honesty.

When their country was threatened they sent their stalwart sons to defend it and those sons went to battle for their homeland without a second thought. The reasons for going were clear cut and the cause could not be negotiated.

It might be noted that until Korea the US never concluded a peace settlement with any foe except upon terms of unconditional surrender.

Since World War II this country has been damned with too much leisure. In modern, airconditioned temples of learning our children get knowledge but often they do not get understanding.

There are not enough jobs for school age youngsters and calluses on teenage hands are all too few. Parents attempt to prove their love for their children and each with THINGS rather than in the giving of THEMSELVES.

The children get more pointers on living from the TV screen than they get from their own parents.

Burnt toast two mornings in a row is grounds for divorce and here in Randall County divorces often outnumber marriages.

When England led the world, the basic unit of her existence was the family. This was true to such an extent that the prime duty of the royal family was to set an example for British subjects.

Family goals are fuzzy or non-existent. The same thing is true of national goals.

In the light of this fact, it is little wonder that we are producing young men who defiantly and with disregard to patriotism vehemently declare "Hell no! We won't go!"

With exploding population crowding us for living room and rapid communication bringing the troubles of the world to our ears almost instantly, our need for a measure of inner peace is compounded.

Most of us must look to our churches. The day when the church could minister to the needs of a few widows, send a few dollars to foreign missions and spend the rest of the time fighting sin are gone. If they are to remain meaningful in our society, they must offer solutions to spiritual and psychological problems confronting the home, the individual and the nation.

It's a lot more important to teach families how to live together than it is to tell them to avoid alcoholism. The divorce rate in Randall County is much more appalling than the prospect of parimutuel wagering.

A West Texas State University psychology teacher told her students only last week that infants die without love. So do nations, for without love there is no purpose and without purpose there is no reason for being.

It is not likely that it will ever happen, but if every church in Canyon could for the next six weeks concentrate on this need for love of self, family, neighbor and country, and if it could be accepted by the people of this community, Canyon might well become the haven to make this nation rise to new life.

Science Fairs Set For Schools

Student Science Fairs are slated at Canyon Junior High School, Rex Reeves Elementary School and Gene Howe Elementary School with "best of show" winners to advance to the Texas Panhandle Science Fair in Amarillo during April.

Umbarger School held its annual science fair competition last Friday. Winners named to represent Umbarger at the Amarillo judging were James Grabber, first place in the junior division, and Elbert Liekhus, first in the elementary division. Other winners at the school in the elementary division were Sharon Ramaekers, second; Elaine Ramaekers, third; and Delbert Liekhus, fourth. In the junior division, other winners were Dwight Brandt, second; Janice Wieck, third and Glen Stocker, fourth.

Science fair at Canyon Junior High School is expected to draw about 150 exhibits, according to Mrs. Ronald Boehning, sponsor. The exhibits will be judged Friday afternoon by out-of-school judges.

Exhibits at the junior high will be open for public inspection Saturday between 9 a.m. and noon. The show has seven entry divisions, according to Mrs. Boehning, and will be set up in the cafeteria.

Science fairs at both Gene Howe and Rex Reeves Elementary School will be judged March 1 by out-of-school judges. Both fairs are expected to draw a large number of entries and four "best-of-show" exhibits from each school will be selected to compete at the Panhandle Science Fair in Amarillo.

Bryce Slack, director for the science fair at Rex Reeves, said that the science exhibits will be available for public inspection during Texas Public School Week and will be an added attraction of the school's open house activities.

Kathryn McBride will be in charge of the science fair at Gene Howe Elementary. She noted that about 150 exhibits are expected to be entered in the seven divisions of the fair. The exhibits will also be displayed during Texas Public School Week.

LAWN AND GARDEN fertilizer will be sold by members of the Kiwanis Club here Saturday and again March 9. One 50 pound bag of the Olin Mathison Chemical Company product will sell for $3.95. Examining a bag of the fertilizer is, left, Jerry LaGrone and Dr. Burwell Southern.

Telecast Cougar Tilt

The West Texas State-Houston basketball game will be televised live here Monday, March 4 over KGNC-TV, channel 4, in Amarillo according to KGNC general manager Bob Watson. The telecast will begin at 8 p.m. with the opening tipoff set for 8:05 p.m. KGNC will also broadcast the game on radio. The West Texas-Houston game has been a sell-out since Wednesday, February 14.

Dick Risenhoover, KGNC news director, will supply play-by-play of the telecast. Pampa radio man Warren Hasse will handle the radio broadcast. KGNC is 710 on the radio dial.

A New Face For the 75th District Seat in the Texas Legislature (Armstrong, Briscoe, Carson, Collingsworth, Donley, Randall Counties)

MARION BRUCE

In 1965, Incumbent J. M. Simpson voted AGAINST MJR 79--a plan to lift excessive taxation off farmers and ranchers who live too close to towns and cities--or caught within the extended "corporate limits."

But the fair-minded people of Texas reversed Simpson's decision. In November 1966, they voted that so long as land is being used for agricultural purposes--even though it is in the sphere of a city--it should be assessed for taxes as farmland.

How many thousands of Texans would still be on the land if they had not been forced to leave because farm prices will not support city taxation?

WT Cagers Face Tough Opponents

West Texas State has five games remaining on the schedule, and a look at that slate reflects a dim outlook for three of those contests: Texas at El Paso, New Mexico State and Houston.

Things aren't quite as dour as one might expect, however, for a couple of reasons. One, the Buffs are a much improved ball club and have the impetus of winning recently going for them. Two, they play all three of those clubs at home.

The final two week swing begins Thursday night when the Buffs host a potent Abilene Christian College team. ACC isn't in the class with the Aggies, Miners and Cougars, but is good enough to snap WT's five-game winning streak if the Buffs don't play hard.

The Buffs have built a .500 record to 8-8 and will be favored in but two of the five games, ACC and Texas at Arlington. Although they will be underdogs in the other three, it isn't impossible that the Buffs could whip both the Miners and Aggies with a superb effort. The Houston game is another question entirely.

The combined record of the five opponents is 64-40. But take out ACC and Arlington and you have three teams with a combined 54-10 mark.

Simmie Hill, WT's leader, is sixth ranked nationally in scoring and needs but 11 points to tie and 12 to set a new one-season West Texas scoring record. He is averaging 28.5 per game.

The old record of 465 was established in 1954-55 by James Scott. Hill has 454 and figures to surpass Scott's mark handily Thursday night and have four games remaining to build up a great lead.

The Buffs take on UTEP Saturday night, New Mexico State a week from tonight, and Houston March 4. The Houston game already is sold out. Houston is 24-0, NMS 18-4 and UTEP 12-6.

FFA Chapter Gives Awards

The observance of National Future Farmers of America Week was opened here Monday evening with an annual parent-son banquet at the Canyon High School cafeteria.

Bill Sarpolis of Clarendon, Area I FFA president, was the main speaker. He followed the FFA theme "challenge to youth in agriculture" and stated that leadership is a challenge to today's youth.

"All leaders come out of the masses to stand for what they believe to be right," said Sarpolis. "The future of the nation is up to today's young people. You are the ones who must do it... it is your challenge in the future of agriculture."

About 250 were present for the banquet. Dick Cummins, chapter president, served as master of ceremonies.

Awards presented during the evening included two honorary chapter farmer degrees. The honorary awards were given to Jerry Jacobs, superintendent of schools, and Walter Cranmer.

Marcus Phillips and Jim Walker, vo-ag instructors, assisted with the presentation of awards to outstanding FFA members.

Named as "outstanding FFA member" was Doug Breitling. Mike Breitling was named "star chapter farmer" and Rick Hales was presented a plaque as "star greenhand". Named as "star co-op boy" was Robert Steele.

Other awards were public speaking to Dick Cummins; livestock farming to Mike Henders; crops to Stanley Wieck; and herdsman awards to Dick Cummins and Mike Brannum.

The FFA chapter sweetheart, Marilyn Bourland was presented with a gift.

In observance of FFA Week, local high school students attended an assembly Tuesday morning where Lowell Catlett, state vice president for Area I FFA, spoke on "Americanism".

Other activities slated for FFA Week here include "dress up day" today and a "western day" on Friday. A dance will be held Friday evening at 7:30 p.m. in the Junior Livestock Building. Admission will be $1 per student and music will be furnished by "The Tymes".

Local Pastor At Meeting

The Rev. Strauss Atkinson, pastor of Canyon's First Baptist Church, will attend the Panhandle Pastors' and Laymen's Conference Monday and Tuesday in Plainview.

Also attending from the First Baptist here will be W.H. Harden, Mr. and Mrs. John Hammond and Ken Baker.

Theme for the conference is "Other Foundations--No".

Both morning sessions begin at 9:30 a.m. in the Wayland College Auditorium. Afternoon sessions are slated from 1:30 p.m. in the auditorium.

Sessions Monday will begin at 7:30 p.m. and Tuesday at 7 p.m. Both will be in the First Baptist Church.

Featured speakers will be Dr. Jack Taylor, pastor of the Castle Hill Baptist Church of San Antonio; Dr. Gordon Chinnard, pastor of the First Baptist Church of San Angelo; and Dr. Leon McBeth, professor of Southwestern Seminary in Fort Worth.

Death Claims Pioneer Here

MRS. LAURA JANE WALKER

Death claimed a Panhandle pioneer woman here over the week end.

Mrs. Laura Jane Walker, 92 years old, died Saturday in La-Casa Canyon Convalescent home in Canyon. She had lived at the home for a year.

Mrs. Walker was the mother of Mrs. Gilbert (Ann) Brown, counsellor and teacher at West Texas State University.

Mrs. Walker was born Dec. 10, 1875 in Farmersville. She grew up at Farmersville and as a bride came to the Panhandle to live on a ranch near Higgins.

Her husband, the late W. J. Walker, was interested in the cattle business there. For three years Mrs. Walker lived on the ranch doing chores and cooking for the hands.

In 1906 the Walkers returned to Farmersville and lived there until 1912 when they moved to Abernathy. At Abernathy Mr. Walker was a farmer and stockman.

The family moved to Cotton Center in 1918 and continued in the farming and ranching business. Mrs. Walker was a charter member of Cotton Center Baptist Church.

She loved life to the very end and actively operated her farming interests at Cotton Center until she was 86 years old. When she was 84, she bought a new car and began taking driving lessons.

Persuaded that she simply could not drive, she kept the car and employed a chauffeur. She never missed a Sunday School or Church Circle meeting until she became an invalid and often motored to far away places like Dallas.

"She loved every minute of it," Mrs. Brown remarked of her mother.

She suffered a stroke in 1962 and then fell and suffered a hip fracture.

Mrs. Walker's husband died in 1960. The couple had observed their golden wedding anniversary in 1953. For a number of years before entering the convalescent home here, Mrs. Walker had made her home with the Browns at Dawn.

At the time of her death, she was a member of Canyon

Baptist Church.

Mrs. Walker's father was a Confederate veteran and Mrs. Walker was a member of the Daughters of the Confederacy. At the time of her death she had applications for membership in the Daughters of the American Revolution and Colonial Dames for which she was eligible.

She was a direct descendant of Anthony Ashley Cooper, the first Earl of Shaftesbury, who served as Lord Chancellor of England in 1672.

Funeral services were held Monday afternoon in Cotton Center Baptist Church. Officiating were Rev. Strauss Atkinson, pastor of Canyon First Baptist Church, and Rev. Raymond Jones, pastor of Cotton Center Baptist Church. Burial was in Plainview Cemetery under direction of LaGrone Funeral Home of Canyon.

Survivors, other than Mrs. Brown, include another daughter, Mrs. Herman Huffman of Lockney; two sons, Herbert Walker of Plainview and Paul Walker of Lubbock; nine grandchildren and nine great-grandchildren.

Golf Club Holds Meet

The Canyon Ladies Golf Association held a regular day of play at the Hunsley Hills Golf Course recently.

Nichole Huve won the "most of any five" with five fives. Low net for the field went to Mrs. Ernie Harp with 45-8-37.

The group will meet Tuesday at the Canyon City Club.

"and politicians in this country were making all kinds of promises to get the vote of descendants of central eastern Europeans."

Nagy, who had been active in Hungarian politics since 1930, first as secretary-general of the Smallholders Party and then, in 1939, when he was elected to parliament, was elected premier Feb. 5, 1946. He resigned by telephone from Switzerland May 29, 1947.

His account of what happened was that while he was away on a two weeks vacation in Switzerland he was the victim of a conspiracy in which his resignation was demanded. He refused. Nagy said he finally agreed to resign by telephone when he was told that his son, who was in Hungary, would be given an exit permit if the premier would resign, and if he continued to refuse, the son would be detained.

During the 16 months Nagy was premier three former premiers of Hungary were executed on charges of collaboration with Germany. Hungary was an Axis ally, but there were moves to seek a separate peace.

When Nagy became a premier he retained the cabinet of former Premier Zoltan Tildy. One of the first trips Nagy took out of the country after the election was to Moscow where he was the honor guest at a reception for Foreign Minister Vyacheslav Molotov. Molotov, known now to young Americans as the man whose name came to be used in "Molotov cocktail" (a home-made bomb), was under the sway at that time of Joseph Stalin, who for many years was both secretary of the Communist Party and premier of the Soviet Union (USSR).

In Hungary itself, Nagy was in power when thousands of Catholics were arrested on the grounds that they were Fascists. Cardinal Mindszenty's plea for amnesty for political prisoners went unheeded. The press, both the Hungarian newsman and foreign correspondents, were muzzled. Through tight censorship a reported purge of politicians and army officers could not be confirmed. British Prime Minister Winston Churchill said that the USSR, along with its army of occupation, was dominating Hungary. Nagy denied it.

News reports of the early 1940's indicated that Nagy was never vocal publicly against communism. It was not until after his resignation as premier in 1947 that he became articulate about communism. He warned the United States against doing business with Stalin, and he signed the memorandum of the International Peasant Union to the United Nations Assembly to the effect that the USSR was dominating Europe.

It was then that Nagy began writing books and preparing lectures against communism. In the Canyon addresses this sequence of events was not clarified.)

But he did speak against communism. He explained that the communism of Yugoslavia and Albania was of a slightly different brand from that of Russia; that the peoples of the 11 other nations of east central Europe are not necessarily communist, but that they are dominated by regimes which are satellites of the Soviet Union and that Estonia, Latvia and Lithuania "have lost even the appearance of independent statehood."

Nagy said that after the Hungarian elections of 1945, Russia allowed no more free elections in her sphere. The Yalta Conference had provided for free elections.

The Russian economic exploitation of east central Europe, he said, continues to this day.

In earlier talks on the WTSU campus, Nagy said the effects of the Vietnam situation are both good and bad. For one thing, the conflict has given Russia an excuse to clamp down on the economy of eastern Europe and some other countries. On the other hand, there has been no expansion of communism since the Vietnam war began, he said. Ideologically, he added, communism has run into barriers, but expansion by military means remains an avenue.

On the Chinese-Russian friction, Nagy said it is due largely to their "sharply opposite interests." The three factors that keep the quarrel going, he said, are the traditional hatred between Chinese and Russians, the rivalry for leadership in Asia, and the territorial conflict.

Big Buff

THE WHITE BUFFALO, sculpted for about a year by Jack Hill of Amarillo, was erected atop Buffalo Bowl hill Tuesday by members of Lambda Chi Alpha, West Texas State University social fraternity. The project was financed through contributions.

first grade students. "We anticipate incoming students and those not already registered to bring our totals up to about 2,600 to begin the fall term," stated Brotherton. He reminded local parents to be sure that their children, between the ages of 6-18, are registered with the local school principals.

"Our census count gives us figures to use in planning how much space, supplies, teachers and equipment will be necessary to open the doors to our schools next fall," Brotherton declared.

The current enrollment breakdown for the Canyon Independent School District includes 551 at Canyon High School, 683 students at Canyon Junior High School, 292 students at Gene Howe Elementary, and 1,027 at Rex Reeves Elementary.

Flapjacks Slated By Kiwanians

Flapjacks by the hundreds will be prepared by the Canyon Kiwanis Club on March 2 in order to give everyone a chance to get their fill of the tasty treats.

The annual event will be held from 6 a.m. to 8 p.m. in the Rex Reeves Elementary School cafeteria. Tickets are selling at 75 cents for students (including college students) and $1 for adults.

"All you can eat will be the order of the day," according to Jim Killingsworth, Kiwanis chairman. Other committee members include Benny Cooper, Charlie Graham and Phil Langen.

Proceeds from the project will be used by the civic club to sponsor various community betterment projects during the year.

as head mentor for the Eagles. Goode was graduated from Hardin-Simmons in 1952 with a degree in business. He served in the Air Force from 1952 to 1956 and was discharged with the rank of sergeant.

He was assistant coach at Canadian beginning in 1956 and then in 1960 went to Hardin-Simmons for a year as assistant coach.

He was head coach at LeFors from March of 1961 to 1963 and then moved to Taft in 1964 where he coached the AA Taft team for a year.

He went to Beeville in 1965 to coach that AAA team. He won bi-district honors with his LeFors team in 1962.

Goode played halfback for HSU. He was named to the little All-America team in 1951 and made all conference halfback the same year. After college he was drafted by the Washington Redskins.

He coached and played for the Air Force during his service years.

He was second leading ground gainer in the US in 1951 as a member of the HSU team. He gained 1,490 yards in 270 carries and held the record for the number of carries in a single season.

He scouted for the San Francisco Forty-Niners in 1960. He and his wife, Betty Ann, have one son, Eric, 9 years old.

present dump ground. The entire dump ground will be enclosed in a mesh wire fence.

"This will eliminate blowing paper and other blowing trash," he said. "Water is going to come across the dump ground anywhere you put it," Lindsey went on. "If we moved it south of town we would have to go 14 miles to get to a place where the drainage would be to the south."

Several citizens have expressed concern that extension of the dump ground would pollute the stream running through Hunsley Hills.

"We'd like to get across that we plan to improve the dump ground, not just expand it," Lindsey declared.

He said it will be possible to reclaim the new dump ground for other use if it ever becomes necessary to do so. "You could build right on it," he declared. "There is no way it could be a loss to the city. We are not financially able nor would it be feasible to just pull up and move the location of the dump ground."

Scant Snow Falls Here

A small amount of snow blanketed Canyon and Randall County early Wednesday morning and a five-day outlook prepared by the US Weather Bureau in Amarillo indicates more moisture for this weekend.

Temperatures will be from 3 to 7 degrees below the average normals of 57-32 today, Thursday, and this weekend, but a slight warming trend is expected Friday.

The outlook shows from .10 to .30 inches of moisture in the form of rain or snow for the weekend.

Although streets were icy Wednesday morning, no major accidents in Canyon were reported. Crews from the Texas Highway Department were busy early Wednesday salting and sanding small amounts of snow and ice that accumulated on the Canyon Expressway.

Below are the readings from the Canyon Weather Station on the campus of West Texas State University. These are for the days of Feb. 14 through Feb. 20.

duty with the 142nd Infantry Regiment when that unit was mobilized during the Korean War. LaGrone was listed in 1964 as one of the outstanding young men of America. He has been active in all phases of community work including Boy Scouts since his arrival here.

"Education is one of the last great hopes, not only of this country but for the world," declared LaGrone. "I think our schools here at Canyon are second to none and I want to keep them that way."

LaGrone is the father of three school-age children. They are Jan, 13; Phillip, 10; and Kevin, 8.

Grant . . .

1966, was made through the Texas State Department of Health in Austin.

Marvin Springer, urban planning consultant of Dallas, has been working with city officials here preparing a land use study and zoning and subdivision regulations. City Commissioners earlier agreed to pay Springer for his services even if the planning assistance was not granted by HUD.

As Canyon has a population of less than 50,000, the grant request was made through a state agency.

Cost of the original proposal would have included $13,000 to Springer, $6,000 to topographic mapping and $920 for technical supervision and $650 for administrative costs.

While Canyon was originally to receive $14,940 from the federal government, the portion for aerial mapping was excluded from the grant request.

"Our staff will soon commence work on a contract with the City, the City's consultant and the Texas State Department of Health will set forth the terms and conditions for carrying out the proposed work program," said David M. Cochran in a letter to Lindsey. Cochran is chief of environmental development program for the State Health Department.

"A preliminary draft of this document," the letter from Cochran continued, "will be sent to you as soon as possible. We wish to have your comments prior to the preparation of the final draft."

Canyon's share of the cost for the planning study will be $3,507 for the two years of work.

Grants under the Urban Planning Assistance Program are authorized by Section 701 of the Housing Act of 1954.

Springer has conducted several meetings with members of the City, Planning and Zoning Commissions to formulate plans for the planning grant.

The Randall County winner will compete in Amarillo April 27 for the annual regional elimination for the National Spelling Bee.

Last year, Henry Raemakers, son of Mr. and Mrs. Vincent Raemakers, was the Randall County champion. He was an eighth grader in the Umbarger school.

fair exhibits and visit in the classrooms.

"Back-to-school" night at Canyon Junior High School will be Tuesday, March 5, according to Dan Trew, principal. The occasion will be a simulation of the student's day beginning at 7:30 p.m. Parents will be invited into the classrooms to view displays and visit with homeroom teachers.

Canyon High School will also hold open house on Tuesday night, March 5, from 7:30 until 9 p.m. Teachers will be stationed in the classrooms to visit with parents and explain student displays.

Among other activities planned for the week, according to Brotherton, will be noon business meetings for Canyon civic clubs at the Junior High School building.

The civic clubs will meet at the Junior High School cafeteria for their noon meetings on the following schedule: Lions, February 28, Kiwanis, March 15, and Jaycee and Rotary Clubs, March 5.

Special entertainment for each of the civic club meetings will be furnished by the choir and band students of the school. At the junior high school, members of the Student Council will serve as official hosts for the visitations.

Rex Reeves Elementary students will stage an annual program by third grade students on Tuesday, March 5, at 7:30 p.m. in the all-purpose room. The program will feature an American Heritage theme.

"We will also have our Science Fair displays on exhibit during the week," related Hinger. Hospitality committee for the school will be the Rex Reeves Parent-Teacher Association.

In addition to other activities, the sixth grade choir and band students will perform over KCAN radio station during the week. Speech and music departments at Canyon High School will also be featured over KCAN as will the fourth and fifth grades from Gene Howe Elementary.

At Canyon Junior High School, the billboard on the school lawn will be used to promote school week and the high school students in speech will use the school intercom system each morning to give talks in relation to education.

Students and teachers will be dismissed from regular classes on Friday, March 8, according to Dave Corley, assistant principal at Canyon High School. Teachers will attend the annual district teacher's meeting in Amarillo that day.

from Dallas. He holds a law degree and a bachelor in accounting from the University of Texas.

He served four years in the Air Force and then worked five years for IBM Corporation. He attained the rank of captain in the service.

He and his wife, Mary, have two sons and two daughters. He is a ruling elder in Westminster Presbyterian Church of Amarillo and a member and past member of the advisory board of the Amarillo Salvation Army.

He has been active in a number of phases of civic work in his community including Girl Scouts and the Potter-Randall County Citizens Committee.

He sought the Democratic nomination for county judge in 1960 and led a field of four candidates in the primary only to be defeated by Wayland Angel in a runoff.

The office of county judge presently pays a salary of $8,000 a year but commissioners have discussed increasing it.

Mulloy was appointed by commissioners in November to succeed Judge Lloyd King who died of a heart attack.

King's term was to have run until 1970 but election laws require that the office be subjected to the first general election after it is filled by an appointee.

Brown had been opposed on the Democratic ticket by Amarillo attorney Leigh Fischer. Fischer has withdrawn from the race.

recently by a news reporter if the dual role was legal.

Davis said a check with Cox revealed a commissioner could not, by state statute, have a contract for services with the City of Canyon.

Although Mobil Oil Company, for which Pierce is local consignee, had earlier submitted a bid for the fuel contract but it was withdrawn after Cox's ruling.

"I didn't even submit a bid," Pierce told his fellow commissioners.

"I hated it as bad as anybody," Mayor Paul Lindsey told Pierce. "I would have loved you to had it."

"Mayor Thompson sold the city everything they bought—practically," Pierce continued. "We'll put it in now and leave it in—it will apply from now on," Pierce said of the policy.

As to why a former mayor sold goods to the city, Lindsey said it was a "pretty good question."

"That is a good question," Pierce stated. "Skip it—we'll go on."

In other action, commissioners voted to hold a $440,000 bond issue election in conjunction with city council elections April 2. Those items on the ballot will be sewer plant expansion, $212,000; sanitation improvements, $26,000; and street and drainage improvements, $200,000.

The terms of Commissioners H. R. Fulton, Jr. and George Ritter and Lindsey expire this year. Only Ritter has filed for reelection.

Permission to reroute an alley in Hunsley Hills for the construction of a club house, swimming pool and parking area was granted to Tom Rose, owner of the Hunsley Hills Golf Course located in the northern section of Canyon.

Rose, who said he would grant utility easements to the city, said he would meet with members of the Planning and Zoning commissions in the near future to discuss building plans. A parking ordinance vacating streets within the confines of West Texas State University was approved.

The city earlier agreed to dedicate the streets to the university so the campus could be closed to non-student traffic.

spread. As in the past, a secondary contest—the Junior Spelling Bee—will be open to contestants from the sixth and lower grades.

Randall County junior champion for 1967 was Cattie Wall, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Easton Wall. She is a sixth grader at Rex Reeves Elementary School, and now lives in Vega where her father, Easton Wall, is school superintendent.

First place winner in the Golden Spread Bee will go to Washington, D. C. during the first week in June to participate in the National Spelling Bee. The winner will also receive several other prizes and his or her school will have a full year of use of the Britannica film service.

A traveling plaque, carrying the names of all Regional winners since 1949, will hang at the school of the winner.

Each county champion receives an engraved plaque and a gold pin and each county junior champion is given a trophy and silver pin during intermission at the Regional Bee. There is no regional contest between the juniors.

This will be the 39th year for the National Spelling Bee, which is sponsored by newspapers throughout 50 states.

Commissioners for several months have discussed the possibility of purchasing the machines.

In other action, commissioners discussed the possibility of decreasing the salary of the Randall County Judge's secretary.

Following the publication of a letter to the editor in Amarillo's Globe Times last week, commissioners learned the judge's secretary, Mrs. Genelle Bourland, was receiving a salary of $2,580 per year from the state as assistant school superintendent for the Umbarger School District.

Commissioner Clarence Beckman, who was also referred to in the letter to the editor, said the additional salary for Mrs. Bourland was "a deal we knew nothing about."

He added the commission had always attempted to keep "all the help on the same schedule. This throws our little old schedule out of kilter."

Members of the Randall County School Board told commissioners that the late Randall County Judge Lloyd King recommended Mrs. Bourland be made assistant school superintendent.

"It was because Judge King requested the office," said Jess Barker, member of the school board.

Mrs. Bourland said an auditor from Austin last summer asked why she was not assistant superintendent. While Mrs. Bourland said bookkeeping for the school district did require additional time, she said there was no increase in the amount of time she spent in her office.

Commissioner B. R. Jones said the additional salary had "created an inequity" among other office personnel and pointed out the work Mrs. Bourland did for the school while she was also on salary from Randall County.

Mrs. Bourland presently receives $2,940 from Randall County and $2,580 from the state as assistant school superintendent. Chief deputies in other county offices are paid $1,620 less than Mrs. Bourland.

E. R. (Dutch) Cleavinger, also a board member, said "he (King) just presented it up there and we went along with it."

Commissioners tabled action on the matter until next Monday.

Commissioners took no action toward the purchase of a steam cleaner for precincts three and four, or a pickup for precinct three. Bids for the three items were opened Monday.

The junior high band will perform "Greenbury" by Ted Mesang; "Shenandoah" arranged by James Floyhar; "Three Sketches for Band" by John Morrissey including Hayride and Barn Dance; "Oye Negra" arranged by Merle Isaac; and "Gaslight Gaieties" arranged by James Floyhar.

C.N. Cosby Canyon Boys Announces Candidacy In Marathon

In announcing my candidacy for the office of County Judge of Randall County, I feel impelled to submit to the people the three major attributes of character which I consider absolutely essential to the qualification of anyone seeking that office. These virtues are more likely to be inherent than acquired. If possessed, the make it possible for the holder to attain success in any legitimate endeavor he may undertake. If lacking, no degree nor "degrees" of learning will suffice in their stead.

First, I would list moral integrity, a term which embraces many virtues some of which can be classified as: Honesty in preachment and practice, charity (or fairness) in human relations, awareness of responsibility and sensitivity to duty.

The second requirement I would name is common sense, or intellectual ability which enables one to reason from the known to the unknown, from cause to effect; and rendering him sound in judgement, fixed in purpose, and capable of discerning the intent of law in the light that shines from the lamp of justice, and not in the shadows that filter through the loopholes of cunning devices.

The third essential is nothing more than the courage to pursue a course of action as set forth by the dictates of the aforesaid virtues.

It is to be understood that perfection is never reached in these areas, but I do believe I am capable and willing to measure up to all expectations, justified by reasonable demands, else I would not ask for political support.

C. N. COSBY

At this point I want to say it is my candid opinion that the Commissioners of Randall County violated the most of these precepts when they stated to individuals, and the press, they would not appoint anyone to the office of County Judge who was a candidate for that office, and then, within the matter of a few days, ignored their previous promises and named my opponent to that place, thereby giving him, as the incumbent, an unfair advantage. May it not be concluded that that which is unfair is unjust? And that injustice taints the atmosphere of any court from the lowest to the highest? Let it be hoped that their actions in this matter resulted from a lack of insight rather than political skulduggery or malicious intent.

May I further state, in this connection, that I assured the Commissioners, before I had an opponent, that I would not consider it fair practice to appoint me or any candidate to fill the unexpired term.

IF ELECTED
I will not vote to raise my own salary during my tenure of office.

I shall seek to further acquaint myself with the needs and conditions of the County, its people and their problems, in view of doing what I can to make them better.

I shall not turn a deaf ear to the voice of others, but after due consideration, will act according to the dictates of my own judgement and conscience, as they are related to equity and law.

I shall cooperate with the County Commissioners and other personnel in all matters pertaining to the welfare of the county so long as I can do so with a just purpose and a clear conscience.

I will be available to all persons at all times during regular office hours, and most any other hour if the need arises.

If given the opportunity of serving as Judge, I believe I can and will justify every statement I am making here, reflecting upon the office the honor and dignity it justly deserves. (PD, POL, ADV.)

There are some people who have a thing about running. For every good thing there is a time and place, and for those in the southwestern United States who have "the thing," the time is mid-February and the place is Artesia, New Mexico.

Artesia is the home of the infant College of Artesia, whose athletes are appropriately known as the Roadrunners. The city is the site of the annual College of Artesia Marathon. Last weekend those who quickly cling to the idea that legs are still a good method of transportation gathered in Artesia. They came from numerous states and from abroad, having been promised that all who completed the 26 mile, 385 yard course in less than seven hours would receive an award. When the starter's gun was raised Saturday morning, the preposterous total of 579 people--male and female--toed the line.

Among the 579 were two 15-year-old kids from Canyon. They drove 250 miles just so they could run 26 miles down a road through the New Mexico wilderness. When the exodus was completed, Frank Belcher had finished 23rd and Frank Mayfield had placed 46th. Belcher took less than half the time required for an award, finishing in three hours, 28 minutes and one second. Mayfield's time was four hours, five minutes and 46 seconds. Both boys represented the Meteor Track Club here, of which Belcher is president.

It may be an appalling thought to those who get tired by just climbing into the stands to watch a sporting event, but distance runners are indeed a unique breed. Mayfield and Belcher ran dozens of miles a week preparing for Artesia. They risked nasty weather, attacks by pest dogs, and razing hints from passing motorists. They did this for the love of running, the satisfaction of developing self-discipline, and for two little three-inch hunks of wood and metal inscribed "23rd" and "46th."

The two had to wait several hours before receiving their awards because Artesia's Athletic Director Herb Bridgewater hadn't finished running himself and therefore couldn't give them out. As they waited, a woman who had come all the way from California finished the course with a clocking of five and a half hours. The woman is completely blind.

The whole town lined the finishing point on Artesia's Main Street and applauded every exhausted athlete. The finishing procession was strung out over five hours from the time the winner broke the tape.

After Bridgewater jogged in and passed out the trophies the boys piled into the car for a 250 mile creep home through dense fog, vowing to do better next year. "I already know how I could do better," insisted Belcher. "Don't gripe," chided Mayfield, "how often do you get a trophy for 23rd place? Or 46th?"

Belcher's mother and his two sisters made the trip, strictly as rooters, and David Low represented the Meteor club as manager.

Oh yes, the winner. He was Ireland's Pat McMahon, a two-time former national cross country champion in his collegiate days in the United States. McMahon hopes to represent Ireland in the Olympic marathon in Mexico City this October. Mayfield and Belcher will just have to catch that one on television, but who knows--maybe by the Olympics in '72 or '76....

Happy Squads Win

Both Happy's Cowboys and Cowgirls took district basketball honors with wins last week over teams from Nazareth.

The Cowboys bested their opponents by a final 74-44 tally and the Cowgirls won over Nazareth 43-42 to take the district crown.

Mark Moudy dropped in 29 baskets for Happy, with Wick Culp following with 16 markers. Of 19 free throws attempted, the Cowboys sank 14 for 74 per cent and made 46 rebounds to Nazareth's 24.

In the Cowgirls clash, Peggy Bates sank 21 points. Her team made 21 of 29 free throws attempted for 72 per cent.

In other cage action, Happy boys downed Sunray 55-50 but the Cowgirls lost 28-32. Tuesday evening the Cowgirls

MRS. CHARLES WILSON is shown here reading a copy of Golf Digest in which appears a story by her son, Brad. Brad, a golf pro and teacher at San Diego, Cal., is a graduate of West Texas State University.

Wilson Authors Article

Brad Wilson, son of the late Charles Wilson and Mrs. Wilson of Canyon, has authored a two-part story in Golf Digest which is a national publication on sale at Canyon news stands.

The first part appears in the March issue now on sale and the second will appear in the April issue.

Wilson, 29, is a 1962 graduate of West Texas State University.

He played on the golf team here and planned to be a coach until he decided to become a pro.

Wilson's story is entitled "Down the Up Staircase... or What It Takes to Go Broke on the Pro Tour."

Wilson presently teaches golf at the Stardust Country Club at San Diego, Cal., scene of the recent San Diego Open Tournament and the Pro-Am of the Andy Williams Tournament.

WTSU Prof In Recital

Rowie Durden, West Texas State University assistant professor of music, will be presented in a faculty recital Sunday at 3 p.m. in the Fine Arts Auditorium.

A reception for Durden will be held in the formal lounge following the recital.

WT Defeats Centenary

Living up to their steadily increasing reputation as a second half team, the WTSU Buffaloes overcame a 47-45 halftime margin to defeat the Centenary Gents 89-79 Friday night at Haynes Gym in Shreveport.

The win moved WT to a 8-8 season record as opposed to the 1-15 mark at this time last year.

The Buffs have not been at the .500 mark since the 1964-65 season, 74 games ago, when the Buffs had their last five-game winning streak.

This sends the West Texans into their final five games, four at home, against three of the nation's toughest clubs.

The Buffs host Abilene Christian Thursday night in the Buffalo Field-house and then take on Texas at El Paso, New Mexico State here, Texas at Arlington on the road, and finish up the season's action against the nation's top ranked University of Houston Cougars March 4.

The Buffaloes, national free throws champions last year, hit a scorching 20 of 22 second half attempts at the line and 33 of 38 for the night to ice the win.

Simmie Hill, the nation's sixth leading scorer, was in true form Friday night and accounted for 27 points and pulled in 10 rebounds. Pacing the Buffalo attack, Hill was ably supported by Gale Rhine, who hit for 19 points, Mike Mitchell with 18, and David who contributed 14 points.

David Nowlin, who replaced Buff Maurice Savage when the latter got into early foul trouble, answered for 15 rebounds to lead the Herd in rebounding.

Dwayne McAfee paced the scoring of the Gents with a total of 23 points. He was followed by Larry Ward with 19. The Gents hit a torrid 53.8 from the field in the first half with Ward doing most of the damage, bucketing 13 points. Hill led the Buffs' first half effort with 17.

In the first half the lead was tied on six different occasions and the lead changed hands three times. The lead finally came to rest in the Gents favor when Mike Tebbe hit on a reverse layup with seven seconds for the 47-45 margin.

West Texas took the lead for good on a 20-foot jump shot by Nowlin with 15:30 showing on the clock. This sprung Hill loose who hit on a jumper and followed that with a tap-in to give the Buffs a 59-53 advantage.

The Buffs expanded their lead 11 points on two separate occasions. The first 11 point margin came with 7:45 left when Rhine scored on a follow basket. Rhine also accounted for the second 11-point spread for the Buffs, after converting four straight free throws to run the margin to 75-66 with 5:12 showing on the clock. From then on it was the Buffs' game.

WT Library Rule Changed

Rules governing non-student use of West Texas State University library will go into effect March 1, according to Frank M. Blackburn, university librarian.

Following is a verbatim statement issued this week by Librarian Blackburn:

Effective Friday, March 1, 1968, all persons not connected with West Texas State University (i.e., public school students, townspeople, area residents, others) wishing to borrow materials from the university library's general (i.e., adult) collection will be required to have obtained, and produce each time thereafter when materials are checked out, a Nonstudent Library Use Card. These initial cards--obtainable upon proper application at the university library, but prepared by the Computer Center in the campus Kilgore Research Center--will cost the applicant $1.00 and will be good for the six-month period March 1 through August 31, 1968, only. On September 1 a new one-year card will be required, as will be explained more fully below.

The reasons for requiring these cards are two, as follows: (1), On March 1 the Circulation Department of the university library will begin using the embossed, laminated identification cards as an integral part of its check out procedure and (2), these cards will assist in controlling and identifying more properly noncampus users of the library. Both faculty and all university students now are issued identification cards by the institution. In order for the library's new Addressograph circulation system to function, noncampus borrowers will have to have similar, but distinctive, embossed identification cards also.

It is to be emphasized that the university library is not instituting a policy of charging noncampus patrons for the privilege of borrowing materials from the library. The only cost to the noncampus patron--unless he incurs charges for lost and/or overdue materials or loses his card--is for the obtaining of the Nonstudent Library Use Card. And in this library is only following policies and procedures already set up for campus personnel.

Both faculty and university students now pay for the institution-issued identification cards they carry. As mentioned above, on September 1, 1968, noncampus borrowers will have to obtain new one-year Nonstudent Library Use Cards. Those cards will cost applicants at least $2.00, possibly more (the university business office has not yet finally determined the charge for next academic year's identification cards), and will bear both signature and photograph of the patron, as do present faculty and university student identification cards.

At that time also it is expected that the library's Addressograph circulation system will be extended to other departments of the library checking out materials to patrons. Should this development occur, as now planned, it would mean that all noncampus patrons--i.e., including children (children of university faculty members, as well) borrowing juvenile books from the library's Youth Collection--would have to obtain Nonstudent Library Use Cards on or after September 1, 1968.

Whether further use of these cards will be made at that time is not now definitely known. It is possible that then, or later, the producing of such a card will be required before library staff members, for example, will give extended reference guidance to noncampus library patrons. Reference assistance to such patrons--particularly to high school students of the city and surrounding area--is beginning to become a problem. At some periods of operation, especially on weekends, such patrons are almost monopolizing the time and energies of reference personnel on duty. Should this trend continue or become even more pronounced, it is not impossible that one day all reference assistance to noncampus library patrons may have to be curtailed sharply or even eliminated almost entirely.

Again, then, the university library is not instituting a policy of charging noncampus patrons for the privilege of borrowing materials from its collections. If such a patron obeys library regulations and returns properly borrowed library materials on or before the indicated due date, his only cost is the obtaining of the Library Use Card. And a similar charge is now made for the institution-issued identification cards carried by campus faculty and students alike.

The university library is mindful of the fact that it is a department of a state-supported institution and thus has a wider obligation than to the institution alone. But its primary responsibility is and must be to the faculty and students of West Texas State University. Its secondary responsibility is to make its resources available, upon proper request and through interlibrary loan, to faculty and student patrons of other state-supported institutions of higher education in Texas. The lending of materials to noncampus patrons of the city and area is, at best, a fourth and much more minor responsibility, certainly ranking after the nationwide reciprocal interlibrary loan program in which the library participates.

Administrators of other college and university libraries have come to realize that indiscriminate and unlimited service to noncampus library patrons is not, even with the library's most generous and unselfish intentions, a genuine, or at least un-mixed, blessing to the local community and to its public schools. The tendency, when unlimited academic library resources and services are so available, is for the town and the public school system to use the college or university library as a crutch, in other words, to use that library as an excuse or justification for not providing adequate public and school library resources, hours of operation, sufficient and trained library personnel. The local situation is little different. Too many city and county residents feel and have expressed the sentiment that not much of a public library, if indeed any public library, is necessary. "There's the university library," they say. "It's a state-supported institution," they continue, "let everyone use it. Why fool with a public library?" And then there are the public school teachers who, at least presumably, continue to assign student topics and then tell their students that "the best place to find your materials is in the university library."

The West Texas State University Library wishes and intends to assist area noncampus patrons (including, so far as possible, public school students) with advanced or unusual needs, with, in other words, needs for materials or services not likely to be available even the best school or small public library. But its resources and services must be a supplement to, not a substitute for, adequate resources and services in these other libraries, libraries which should now be financed, housed, and equipped to properly serve the needs of most of the noncampus patrons now using the university library. Whether that library will find it necessary in the future to place further limitations upon noncampus use of its many resources and services will depend very largely upon the residents and governing officials of the community and area and on the administrators and teachers of its public schools.

Buff's Eye Playoff Berth

West Texas State's first year basketball coach, Dennis Walling, is a big man, big enough to require a 44 extra long shirt and big enough to shoulder the responsibility of transforming a team which had won but one of 19 games last season into a winner.

That's right, Walling's Buffs are perhaps the "winningest" .500 team in the nation with a 8-8 record. "Walling's Wonders" are riding the crest of a five-game winning streak. What's more, they're even thinking in terms of an NCAA or NIT playoff berth, provided they win their remaining five games.

The order is big. West Texas' remaining schedule reads like the heart of the 1927 New York Yankee batting order. The Buffs host Abilene Christian Thursday night, University of Texas at El Paso Saturday night and 12th ranked New Mexico State Monday night. The following Friday night the Buffs meet University of Texas at Arlington on the Rebel's home court before closing the season against top-ranked University of Houston March 4 in Canyon. The Houston game is sold out.

"Our remaining schedule looks about as easy as robbing Fort Knox," jokes Walling. "But," he adds seriously, "this isn't the same team we opened the season with and, the way they've been playing, I'm convinced that anything's possible."

Walling's positive attitude also is reflected by star forward Simmie Hill who adds, "this winning streak has given us the confidence we need to play teams like New Mexico State, Texas Western and Houston who have all beaten us earlier this year. I'm looking forward to playing them again. I think we might surprise them."

Walling makes no bones about 6-6 Hill's value in this season's comeback. "Hill's play has given us the winning edge in our last five wins," says Walling. "When we need a bucket or rebound, he's usually the man to get it. He's been our clutch this season, and his example has done much to improve our other players."

Sophomore David Cole, a 5-6 starter at guard, says Hill helps him by being able to spot full court presses and helps him bring the ball up against them. "Simmie's not only a great inside player," Cole stresses, "but he's also great against the press. He plays like a guard, and when he gets the ball, nobody's going to take it from him. It's encouraging to know he's going to be there when our opponents use the press."

It's Hill's screening and overall "court-sense" that impresses junior Mike Mitchell, a 6-3 guard who ranks second to Hill in team scoring with a 19.0 average. "Many of my outside shots call for screens, and nobody sets them any bigger than Hill," vows Mitchell. "On other occasions he doesn't even need to screen because three men might be sagging on him, and I'll be open for an outside shot. Sim also reminds us to slow the action down when we get moving too fast, and he puts us on the back when we get discouraged. He's just a terrific team player."

Starting center Maurice (Mo) Savage, who played with Hill at Cameron JC last season before the two transferred to West Texas, exclaims, "Simmie is predictable! You look for the right pass or the right fake and Sim has got it. He's set me up with several easy baskets with his passing off drives to the bucket. Simmie also keeps me from getting discouraged," says Savage, a sophomore who makes his presence known with a 12.8 scoring average. "He encourages me to play my best, and he lets me know if I'm not."

Junior guard Gale Rhine says that Simmie's presence on the court gives him confidence. "I know when he's out there he's going to do his part and that's a lot. Even when we're behind Sim gives you confidence because he might score three quick baskets and put us back in the game."

It's no secret that Hill is West Texas' 1967-68 All America candidate. The 220-pound Pennsylvanian presently ranks sixth nationally in scoring with a 29.0 mean, and he leads the Buffs in rebounding, averaging 11.1 caroms per game.

"It was actually Hill who got us to thinking about a playoff berth," says Walling. "After we swept games with Abilene Christian and Hardin-Simmons and defeated Oklahoma City for the second time this season, Simmie came to me and asked what it would take to get into the NCAA or NIT playoffs. I told him we'd probably have to win the rest of our games and he replied, 'that's what we intend to do.'"

Should the Buffs do just that, they probably would be the landslide selection as "Comeback Team of the Year."

Last year Lou Henson guided his New Mexico State Aggies to "Comeback Team of the Year" honors with his "Miracle Midgets". This year the honor might remain in the Southwest if "Walling's Wonders" continue to win against one of the nation's toughest schedules.

Saroyan Drama Continues

One of the Fine Arts Department's most ambitious dramatic productions, William Saroyan's "The Cave Dwellers," will be staged in the Branding Iron Theatre on the West Texas State University campus here Feb. 21-24. Curtain time is 8:15 p.m.

Along with a cast of 13, some 45 teachers and students in the department will participate in the production.

Unlike many attractions in that department, there will be an admission price to this show except that WTSU students are admitted free on their I. D. cards. Tickets for other adults are $1.50, and other students, $1.

The cave dwellers are some of society's castoffs living on the stage of an abandoned theatre which is about to be demolished. A great clown, an ex-prizefighter and a once-great actress are the trio in a coterie who live on the memory of past glory and refuse to surrender to their pride.

When Saroyan's undisciplined drama was staged in New York a decade ago, The New York Times critic, Brooks Atkinson, called it a "fairy story."

The Herald-Tribune's Walter Kerr rather panned the play, finding himself in "the unhappy position of picking on the man who picks on nobody, William Saroyan."

In the WTSU production, Gary Tydings, Amarillo senior, plays the part of the former clown, known as the King. The Queen, who is the derelict of a former great actress, is played by Neva Chowning, Amarillo senior. Randy Carver, Hereford senior, is the ex-boxer.

Kay Stewart, Claude senior, is the young girl who comes in off the street to join the squatters on the stage. Lee Williams, Dalhart senior, and Georgia Newell, Canadian freshman, are in the rolls of the couple who also wander on to the old stage. The birth of their baby in these surroundings was among the dramatic improbabilities mentioned by critics in the 1950's.

Other persons in the cast are Sharon Daniel, Dallas, the lady with the dog; Nick Reid, Rochester freshman, the young dancer; Tanya Wilhelm, Falls Church, Va., freshman, who plays the part of the young queen; Buster Tieman, Canadian freshman, as Gorky, the bear; C. T. Caballero, Canyon junior, the silent young man; John Brandon, Canyon junior, boss of the wrecking crew, and Ken Eastman, Hereford sophomore, the foreman.

The play is directed by William A. Moore, associate professor of speech, and Helen White Moore, associate professor of English.

It is staged by Thomas Hoffman, instructor in speech.

Dick King, Amarillo junior, is stage manager, and Gene Brannum, Clarendon junior, stage technician.

David Schuette, Canyon freshman, is lighting director and sound technician.

Working with the mistress of the costumes will be Tanya Wilhelm, Falls Church, Va., freshman; Kay Stewart, Claude senior; Sharon Daniel, Dallas sophomore, and Denise Adams, Canadian freshman.

On the properties crew are Bonnie Lou Williams, Amarillo sophomore, and Lee Williams, Dalhart junior, and on set decoration, Jim Daniel, Canyon sophomore.

On the publicity staff are Nick Reid, Rochester freshman; Andy Wilks, Pampa freshman; Cindy Lee, Canyon freshman; Connie Clifton, Canyon freshman, and Raymond Root, Dumas freshman.

THESE FOUR THESPIANS are a part of the cast of 13 for the West Texas State University production of "The Cave Dwellers" which is being presented today, Friday and Saturday evenings. They are, left, Kay Stewart, Gary Tydings, Neva Chowning and Randy Carver. Activity cards may be used for WTSU student admission and tickets will be $1.50 for adults and $1 for high school students. The production begins at 8:15 p.m. in the Branding Iron Theatre.

More Tryouts For 'TEXAS'

Additional auditions for "TEXAS", musical drama produced in Palo Duro Canyon State Park each summer, will be held Monday from 2 until 6 p.m. at Texas Tech in Lubbock.

To be present for the auditions, which will be conducted in the Tech Music Building, will be William and Margaret Moore, directors; Royal Brantley, musical director; and Raymond Raillard, executive vice president of the "TEXAS" sponsoring Panhandle Heritage Foundation, Inc.

The directors have held auditions at West Texas State University, and have scheduled others for Portales, N.M. and Arlington. The Arlington auditions, which are slated March 2, will be held at the Six Flags Inn.

Cast members must be available for rehearsals which begin June 1 and for the production which will be staged through Labor Day.

Man Injured In Accident

A 33-year-old Canyon man was treated at Nebbett Clinic for chest injuries and released here following a car-pickup accident at the intersection of US Highway 87 and 10th Ave. last Thursday morning.

James Miller Montgomery, of 2009 13th Ave., was traveling south on US 87 in his 1959 pickup when he was in collision with an automobile driven by Frances Shapley III of the Ponderosa Apartments.

Shapley, a West Texas State University student, was traveling north on US 87 and Montgomery was attempting to turn left on 10th Ave. when the collision occurred.

Canyon Police estimated damages to the pickup at $150 and $750 to the automobile.

A public showing (for women only) will be held March 19 at 7:30 p.m. Films slated are "Traitor Within", an introductory film on cancer, and "Breast Self-Examination".

Jaycee-Ettes Host Event

The tenth anniversary of the founding and organization of the Canyon Jaycee-Ettes was observed Sunday afternoon with a reunion and tea at the formal lounge of the Student Union Building on the campus of West Texas State University.

Mrs. Weyman Brown, president of the women's civic club, was in charge of the program which included a history of the club since it was organized in 1957 with a charter meeting in the home of Mrs. Wayne Wirt. Mrs. Wilbur Truitt was selected as the club's charter president.

Other president's of the club have included Mrs. John Smotherman, Mrs. Wayne Wirt, Mrs. Richard Pruett, Mrs. Odell LaGrone, Mrs. Charles Marshall, Mrs. Meade Michael, Mrs. Guy Hamblen, and Mrs. Brown.

The club has served in organizing and extending Jaycee-Ette clubs in both Friona and Happy. In 1965-66, the club won it's first award as "most outstanding club" at the Texas Jaycee Convention and also had it's nominee, Mrs. Gerry King, selected as "outstanding Jaycee-Ette" on the state level.

In 1966-67, the club repeated with awards at the state convention including the "most outstanding club" of the state; first place in aid to Jaycees, second place in other Jaycee-Ette activities and civic activities, and a third place in ways and means. The club's nominee for "outstanding Jaycee-Ette", Mrs. Charles Marshall, received the state honor for the population division of the club.

A majority of the club's past presidents and former members were special guests at the event Sunday. Guests were also registered from Amarillo, Borger, Happy, Claude, and Pampa.

The tea table was appointed with a spray of gladioli noting the tenth anniversary and crystal and silver appointments were used. Tea cookies and party sandwiches were served to approximately 40. Co-chairmen for the tea were Mrs. Charles Marshall and Mrs. Delbert Turk.

stress of ceremonies for the brief program which included an appearance by the "Sportsman" quartet. Members of the quartet are Gary Moore, Terry Landrum, Jerry Landrum and Larry Daniels. The quartet sang "I'm A Believer", "I Want To Be Free", "Sweet

Cancer Films Viewed By Club

"Cancer will kill you," stated Dr. Dudley Moore as he presented a program for the Canyon Jaycee-Ettes Monday evening at the home of Mrs. Carl Miller.

Dr. Moore showed an introductory film "Traitor Within" from the American Cancer Society. The program was concluded with an informative question-answer session.

Dr. Moore pointed out the danger signals of cancer among

Georgia Brown", and "Cherish."

Background music for the tea hour was furnished at the piano by Mike Ponder.

The program was concluded with past presidents of the club being awarded the scrapbooks and pictures which covered their terms of office.

which were (1) a sore which does not heal, (2) a lump or thickening in the breast or anywhere else on the body, (3) change in a wart, mole or birthmark, (4) persistent indigestion, (5) persistent hoarseness or cough, (6) a marked change in the bowel habits, and (7) unusual bleeding or discharge.

"Pain is seldom a symptom of cancer," said Dr. Moore. "If we catch cancer in time (in the early stages of growth and reproduction) it can often be cured with x-ray, surgery, or chemotherapy."

"Cancer will reproduce and grow more readily in a young person than in the elderly," said Dr. Moore, "because the cells of the young person's body are at a stage of growth anyway."

"Early detection and treatment is the best hope for cancer patients," concluded Dr. Moore.

Members attending the meeting were Mesdames Weyman Brown, Delbert Turk, Tommie Terrell, Don Fatout, Allen Parson, Guy Hamblen, Jim Scott, Charles Marshall, and Carl Miller.

Lakeview HD Club Has Meet

Lakeview Home Demonstration club met recently at the Southwestern Public Service Building's clubroom with Mrs. David Pulley as hostess.

Judy Albracht joined the club as a new member.

A brief business session was conducted and the home demonstration agent, Mrs. Becky Hall, presented the program on "convenience foods".

Next meeting of the group will be March 7 at the Zuider Zee. The luncheon will be concluded with a tour of the Panhandle-Plains Historical Museum in Canyon.

Home Demonstration Clubs Discuss Convenience Foods

"A greater variety of higher quality groceries is one of the reasons for the rise in food costs," according to a statement by Mrs. Becky Hall, home demonstration agent, at a meeting of the Canyon Home Demonstration Club last Friday.

Mrs. Hall is meeting with the ten home demonstration clubs of the county during February. Her topic at these sessions is based on "the place and use of convenience foods."

"Convenience foods may be looked on in several different ways," stated Mrs. Hall as she explained the term convenience food. She emphasized that a convenience food takes less time to prepare than the same food that is less processed or home produced.

"Ease in transporting the

Priscillas Have Lunch

Valentine luncheon for the Priscilla Needle Club was held recently at the S. B. Louder home.

Appropriate decorations were used on the serving table. Co-hostesses were Mesdames A. K. Goodman, J. M. Daugherty, H. M. Stokes, Dudley Moore, Sr. and Faye Canndey.

During the business session, officers elected for the club were Mrs. Tom Knighton, president; Mrs. Faye Canndey, vice president; Mrs. H. M. Stokes, secretary-treasurer; and Mrs. J. M. Daugherty, reporter.

Canyon HD Has Meeting

Mrs. Becky Hall, home demonstration agent, presented a program on "the place and use of convenience foods" at a meeting of the Canyon Home Demonstration Club Friday in the home of Mrs. Marcus Adair.

Members answered roll call with "my standby food" and Mrs. E. L. Hardaway, president, was in charge of the business session. Secretary's report was given by Mrs. Jack Barnard and Mrs. Earl Hadley gave the council report.

During the business session, members voted to make club donations to the Heart Fund and the Cotton John scholarship fund.

Refreshments were served to Mesdames Bill Money, E. L. Hardaway, H. C. Adcock, J. C. McClendon, Earl Hadley, Jack Barnard, Lawrence Hunnicutt, Keith Poole, Marcus Adair, and Mrs. Marie Patterson, a guest.

food from market to the home because of lighter weight or less bulk might be construed as a convenience of some foods," commented Mrs. Hall. "Some foods are changed so that they are being offered in a combination with other foods such as mixes or complete meals and this is a convenience for the modern homemaker."

"The U. S. Department of Agriculture has defined a 'convenience food' as one which has service added to the basic ingredients to reduce the amount of preparation time required at home," stated Mrs. Hall.

Mrs. Hall compared rural and urban families and their comparative uses of convenience foods to demonstrate that a food which is easy to prepare is sought after by homemakers in all areas. She explained that farm families averaged $1.99 per person weekly for convenience families in 1965, which is less than the $2.49 per person convenience foods purchased for urban and city dwellers each week.

"In a study of thirty-two convenience foods," stated Mrs. Hall, "frozen potatoes had a greater increase in percentage volume than any other food when compared with fresh. Commercial fruit juices are rated second as convenience foods."

"Food costs are up 37 percent since 1959 (due to marketing services and labor cost)," said Mrs. Hall explaining that the cost of living is up 50 percent since 1959, according to the Bureau of Labor Statistics.

"In stretching the food dollar," related Mrs. Hall, "it is wise to make a weekly shopping list and limit the trips to the market."

"Take advantage of specials, choose economy size packages, use cost comparisons of brands, take advantage of fruits and vegetables in season, use relatively inexpensive foods lavishly, and combine your costly foods with lower priced foods," were points given by Mrs. Hall in conclusion.

Tea Guests

INSPECTING SCRAPBOOKS at the Canyon Jaycee-Ette tenth anniversary tea and reunion Sunday were Mrs. Weyman Brown, president, left, and other guests including Mrs. Meade Michael, Mrs. Wayne Wirt, Mrs. Barbara Rogers of Amarillo, past State president, Mrs.

Richard Pruett, Mrs. Kaye Smiley, Area I vice president, and Mrs. Margaret Ruthart. Except for area and state officers pictured, the other women are all past presidents of the local women's civic club.

BURSITIS IS A PAINFUL AILMENT

In many cases bursitis is considered to be part of an arthritic tendency. A bursa is a little sac, often containing an oily like substance. It may be positioned under a muscle or a tendon and there it serves as a pulley.

When a bursa becomes inflamed it may fill up with calcium, (sometimes called "lime") salts, which can be easily seen with X-rays. In the early stages it cannot be seen with an X-ray examination. Usually two out of three cases can be quickly cleared by a couple of treatments with rays. Sometimes injections are needed. Quick medical examination and treatment usually saves much pain.

About 32 members were present for the occasion. Co-hostesses were Mrs. Jewell Hill and Mrs. Kirk Kite.

MRS. GEORGE BLACKWELL, hostess, greets Eddie Thomas, speech instructor at Canyon High School, Saturday afternoon as he was guest speaker for the Canyon chapter of the American Association of University Women.

News Department Comes on Strong

A spy ship is seized . . . an earthquake rocks a distant island . . . a president is shot.

There is no major happening throughout the world that KVII-TV viewers won't know about within minutes, according to Bob Izzard and Tom Martin, Channel 7's experienced news team.

"A flick of a switch is all it takes to bring any emergency or major news event right into the living-rooms of our viewers," Izzard said.

Martin, an award-winning commentator and nationally-recognized magazine writer, observed that "the viewer is never out of touch with significant events while watching his favorite program."

The KVII-TV news staff is being doubled to add strength to the department, and additional equipment has been added to provide faster coverage of local and area events.

One major addition is a Jamieson Color Film Processor.

"Normally it takes an hour to process color film for newscasts," Izzard said, "but with the new processor we can go from dip to dry within 20 minutes and handle up to 1,000 feet of news film at a time. This means that a story can break 15 minutes before any news program, and before the newscast is finished we can have the filmed story on the air."

The news staff works with a motto constantly in mind: "Get It First; Get It Right."

Both Izzard, 44, and Martin, 42, are experienced reporters and observers. Izzard, a University of Illinois graduate, has worked in radio and television news since 1948. On the first television newscast in Amarillo, he coined the phrase "Golden Spread," a term now widely used by all media.

He has covered several major stories in Amarillo and throughout the nation. He covered the Tex Thornton murder in Amarillo; the Alaska earthquake; Project Gnome, the atomic device blast near Carlsbad, N.M., to name a few.

Izzard, reared in Amarillo, was a fighter pilot during World War II, and flew 105 missions in P-47s over Europe. He had a special interest in his coverage and participation in a B-52 mission over Vietnam, the capture by the First Cavalry of a cave on the central highlands of Vietnam, a F-100 mission and two air control missions in the Mekong Delta.

Izzard has traveled the world over, and his first hand knowledge of conditions in troubled spots gives him an edge over many newsmen in the area.

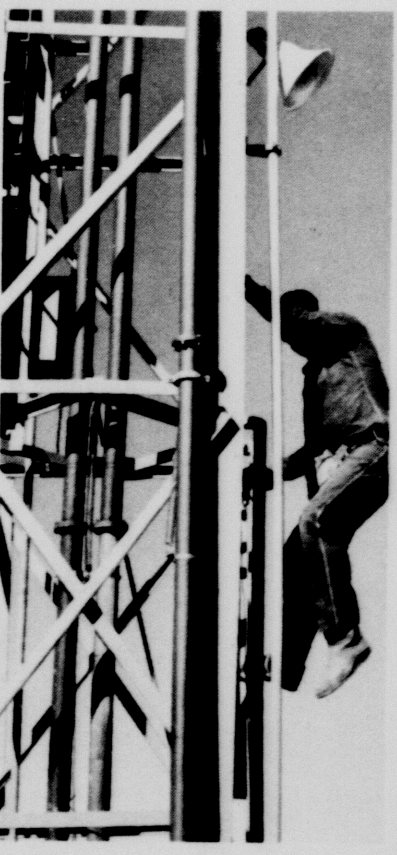

Martin, author of "Dynasty: The Longs of Louisiana," was assistant bureau chief for Newsweek Magazine in Los Angeles and Southwest bureau chief for Time Inc. in Dallas prior to entering the television news field.

He distinguished himself while working for the Houston Press and the Houston Post as an investigative reporter. Expos became his forte, and he exposed a massive insurance scandal in Texas that resulted in changes in the state's insurance laws. He found corruption in the Internal Revenue Service in Texas and in the city government in Houston, both resulting in changes in officials and laws. His exposes earned him the Headliner Award for Investigative Reporting.

Martin was editorial director at KFDD-TV, and won the National Sigma Delta Chi Award for his editorial comments. He also freelances to several national magazines, notably among them The Saturday Evening Post.

He is married and has two children.

High Powered Engineers Work on Picture Problems

No military operation ever worked with more precision than when KVII-TV changed hands three weeks ago.

The transfer was made at noon, and the ink was hardly dry on the final signature before John Tyler, the new general manager, was on the phone calling in a picked team of engineers to cure the ills plaguing the now locally-owned station.

"By 8 p.m. that day, they had flown into Amarillo airport, and by midnight they had rolled their oscilloscopes and other electrical paraphernalia into the transmitter room. We all felt a sense of urgency. We wanted to get things done, and fast! And we did!"

The engineers were Bill Cannady, Channel 7's director of engineering, described by Tyler as someone "who knows more about television than those who invented it," Bill Smith, a highly competent field service engineer with General Electric in Dallas, and Bill Green, a mechanical expert and KVII-TV's chief engineer.

"They worked all night, were at it again by noon the next day and at the transmitter for another all night session. I've never seen people so picky before," Tyler said. "They probed, prodded, pulled apart and put back together nearly every piece of equipment we have, and after they finished, they said, 'Let's check it just one more time.' Unbelievable!"

One of the major problems was the tower. It's 757 feet tall and the 77-foot antenna brings the over-all height to 834 feet. Twenty guy wires hold it in place. Cannady pointed out that the tower was out of plumb.

"This is about the most disgusting thing that can happen to a viewer, particularly at some crucial time. We've corrected this through replacement of parts which were malfunctioning in the transmitter."

Well, John, what about the now and future? He outlined his plans like this:

1. "We're doubling our news staff, and will make it more mobile by buying additional cars. We're providing them with all the equipment they need to provide the kind of coverage viewers expect from a first class news program."

2. "We'll introduce some children's programming."

3. "We're going to sign on earlier and sign off later, and we'll start running a late late show on Friday and Saturday nights."

4. "We'll have more movies in color, and they'll be of more recent vintage than some on the air now."

5. "We will have a weather show that will be like none other ever seen on the Plains. It will be more accurate, more visual and more understandable. It will become more valuable to those who make their living farming and ranching. We'll have devices similar to those used by NASA in its space program and

"Fish in the Canadian River were getting better reception than most people were. You wouldn't think a few inches could make much difference in reception, but with the tower out of line by 10 inches, the station's donut-shaped beam was tilted high-low, overshooting Amarillo and viewers south, and slanting nearly into the river north."

The Channel 7 tower wasn't exactly the Leaning Tower of Pisa, but Cannady said that "being off just a little was enough to cause a blizzard on most screens to the south and poorer reception generally."

The engineers set up their transit on the east, north and south, taking sightings from the bottom of the tower to the tip of the antenna.

"We sent a man to the top, and he twisted the antenna in its collar, 15 feet inside the tower. That helped line the antenna up some. Then we started on the tower. It took us about three hours to straighten it," Cannady said.

With the adjustments, an increase in power and a plumbed tower, the KVII-TV transmission improved. Viewers noticed it as calls to the station indicated.

"It all should have been done a long time ago," Tyler observed.

used by companies such as Jet Propulsion Labs, one of the nation's firms that need the most accurate weather information available."

What about staff changes? "We're adding, not subtracting," he said. "We've got a good staff now, and we're beefing it up with some more competent talents."

Fingering the last sesame seed off the plate, he added: "You know, the viewer is King, the Boss. Not the guy on Madison Avenue as some believe. We want to know what our viewers want, and we're studying the programming now to design it for the people in our part of the country."

Another staff meeting ended the interview, but I checked John's credentials before I left. He's a director of the Texas CATV Association, and has been on the staffs of KTAL-TV, Shreveport, La., KTVT, Fort Worth, and KFDD-TV, Amarillo. Every location is better off for his having been there.

I walked out, not skeptical, but believing what I saw. KVII-TV ISN'T the same station, and I say Cheers to that!

Area Viewers see immediate improvement in K-7 picture quality. See back of this section for picture story of how it happened.

KVII GOES UNDER MICROSCOPE

Reporter Sees Effect of Change

By JERRY SINISE
Freelance Writer

"Making changes here is like sitting on a bed of ants. You don't know where to swat first, because you're getting bitten in a new place every second."

That was John Tyler's opening line to a three hour interview about KVII-TV, its new ownership and his plans as general manager.

Between phone calls, consultations with his staff and a cooling hamburger on a sesame seed bun, he said: "It's not the same station any more. Things are different. They're getting better all the time."

Newsmen are trained to be slightly skeptical of chamber-of-commerce type statements, so I must have sounded somewhat ho-hum in answering: "Of course."

That stopped him in the middle of his attack on soggy lettuce. "Don't take my word for it. Ask anyone."

I did. Tom Martin. As one journalist to another I asked him to level with me.

"For the first time," he said, "everyone feels we're finally in the ballgame and can compete all the way. There's an intense excitement and contagious enthusiasm at KVII-TV that hasn't been noted around here for years. John's right. This isn't the same station."

This ebullience is new. I'd been around the station when a lethargic staff was walking on its lower lip, watching the seconds tick away so it could go home and forget the whole day ever happened.

So, I asked John why the sudden happiness in the atmosphere.

"The change of management and the sale of the station to local ownership have generated a spark of optimism throughout the whole organization. We're going places, and we know it!" he emphasized.

KVII-TV now is owned by Mrs. Estelle Marsh, Stanley Marsh III, Tom Marsh and Michael Marsh, all of Amarillo.

"The Marsh family has been associated with successful Amarillo and area businesses for many years, and they want to see KVII-TV succeed, and they're doing those things necessary to see that it does."

What things, I wanted to know, figuring a put-up-or-shut-up attitude here would get the best results.

John pointed the half eaten hamburger my way, and said: "You know that if anything happens on the High Plains, the switchboard here lights up like a pinball machine gone berserk, and that's been happening ever since the Marshes bought the station."

"One viewer summed up all the calls when he asked what we did to the picture. We didn't know whether to panic, pull the plug on him or what, but we told him we'd improved the color and image 100 per cent or better. You can say that again, he told us. So we did."

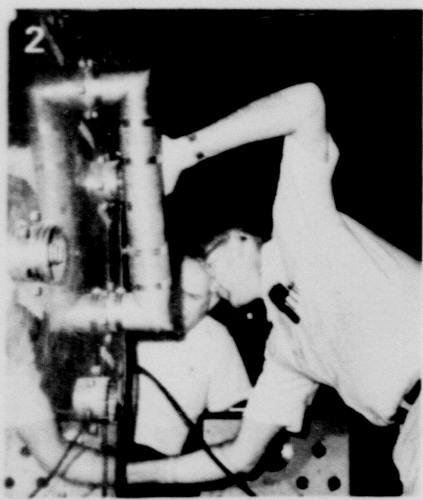

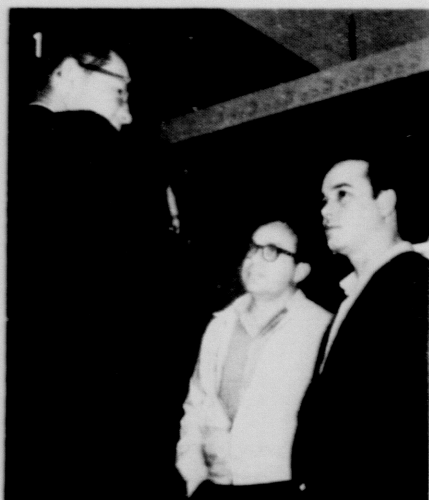

Tyler, using a limp french fry as a pointer, said three topnotch engineers combined their talents to sharpen the blurs and strengthen the signal. They were KVII-TV's Bill Cannady, director of engineering; Bill Green, the station's chief engineer, and Bill Smith, district field service engineer with General Electric.

Laughing a little, Tyler said one of his callers, someone who lived outside Amarillo, told him he was surprised to find the Big Valley really wasn't filmed in a continuous snow storm. "He had a well-known-about-that sound in his voice."

"Seriously, we recognize that KVII-TV has had several problems in the past that were picture-related. The picture was inconsistent. The reds might go pink and the pinks, red, but this problem has been permanently cured with the addition of the latest solid state microwave transmission equipment."

"We had a weak signal, and this resulted in more than the usual amount of snow in some areas outside Amarillo. This has been corrected by bringing our transmitter up to full power of 316,000 watts, the maximum allowed by the Federal Communications Commission. The station had been operating on reduced power until a couple of weeks ago."

I brought in one of my pet gripes, having the station go off the air at the most inopportune moment.

1. Just hours after the new owners take over, electronics experts Bill Cannady and Bill Smith jet to Amarillo to tackle the station's picture problems. Manager John Tyler briefs the two as they formulate a plan of attack.

2. By midnight the station is crammed with sophisticated electronic testing gear. It's late, but the long search begins.

3. The team of specialists probe and analyze. Coffee cups are filled and re-filled. Hopeful moments turn into disappointment.

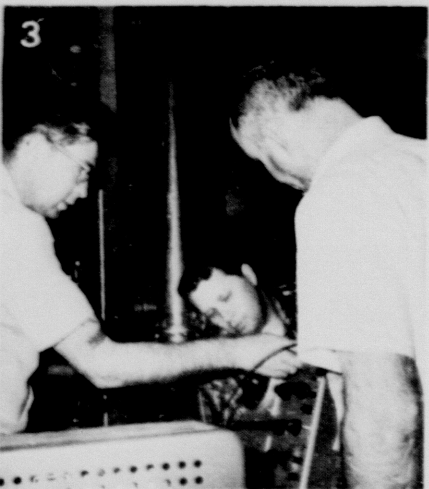

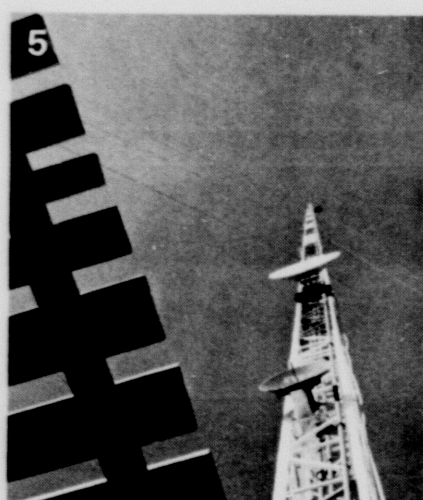

4. By 4 a.m., no solution. Not even a hint. Weary eyes examine complicated diagrams. The steady hum of high-voltage equipment is hypnotic.

5. Fighting fatigue, the bleary-eyed team takes a breather at daybreak. Cannady notices something suspicious about the tower. "Bring a transit!" he orders.

6. "The tower's out of plumb," he declares. "And the antenna's leaning." Somebody has to climb the tower — 757 feet up! (front page)

7. Hard muscles strain against massive wrenches, inching the tower into position. If a cable snaps, the whole tower could come crashing down.

8. At last it is straight. Then come exhaustive tests for picture quality. It has worked. The picture really is better! Now they can go home and sleep. For awhile.
